Animal Welfare Statement

The use of laboratory animals in scientific studies must follow ethical standards concerning their treatment. Consequently, it is the authors' duty to ensure adherence to these ethical guidelines. The author(s) should be in alignment with the recommendations and dedicated to the principles and policies set forth by the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) and WAME.

As an author (or authors), I/We confirm that by signing this declaration, we assert that our submitted manuscript complies with the ethical guidelines mentioned above regarding the use of animals in research.
